

NEBOSH Environmental Management Certificate

Course Aim

This course is an entry level Environmental Management Certificate and is a globally recognised qualification which is designed to develop your understanding of environmental issues in the workplace. This course aims to provide delegates with the knowledge, tools, and skills to implement effective environmental management systems to reduce environmental impact.

The NEBOSH Environmental Management Certificate is guided by the ISO 14001 Environmental Management System and key environmental regulation.

Who Should Attend?

This course is aimed at delegates who are looking to develop in environmental sustainability and implement effective environmental management systems across their organisation. This course is ideal for delegates who are: Health & Safety Managers, Facilities Managers, Quality Managers and Operational Managers.

Course Duration

This is a course requires a total of 67 hours of study. This is spilt into 34 taught hours, 25 self-taught hours and 8 assessment hours.

Agenda

- Understand the scope and nature of environment management
- Understand the importance of sustainability
- Understand the reasons for implementing an environment management system
- Understand the benefits and limitations of introducing a formal EMS into the workplace
- Understand the reasons for carrying out environmental impact assessments
- Understand the main types of emission to atmosphere and how to control measure and reduce emissions
- Understand air quality standards
- Understand the sources of environmental noise and their consequences
- Understand the methods for the control of environmental noise
- Understand the main sources of water pollution and the main control measures that are available to reduce contamination of water sources
- Understand categories, minimising waste, managing waste and the risk associated with contaminated land
- Understand the positives and limitations of fossil fuels

NEBOSH Environmental Management Certificate

Certification

Delegates successfully completing this course will receive a NEBOSH Accredited Programme Certificate.

This is the NEBOSH Environmental Management Certificate level-3 vocational qualification on the UK Regulated Qualification Framework (RQF) and Qualifications and Credit Framework (QCF).

